Hemisphere Energy Announces Alberta Farm-in

Vancouver B.C., Tuesday, November 23, 2010. Hemisphere Energy Corporation (TSX: HME) is pleased to announce a farm-in agreement to earn lands in the Jenner area of southeastern Alberta. The agreement gives Hemisphere Energy a right to farm-in to 5 net sections of land with petroleum and natural gas rights to the base of the Mannville formation. Hemisphere Energy will pay 100 percent of the drilling costs subject to a convertible royalty and will drill the first well by February 15, 2011.

With this agreement, Hemisphere Energy now has access to over 11 gross sections of land in the Jenner area, which has multiple zones of potential, year round access and existing infrastructure. Drilling operations in the first quarter of 2011 will target oil bearing zones of the Mannville formation.

Hemisphere Energy has production from 14 wells, four Halfway liquid-rich natural gas wells on its Trutch property in northeast British Columbia and ten Edmonton Sand natural gas wells on its Sylvan Lake property in central Alberta. Hemisphere Energy has an inventory of low risk development drilling locations within its Trutch and Sylvan Lake properties.

Hemisphere Energy focuses on developing projects with low risk drilling opportunities, multiple zones of potential, and long-life reserves that will increase Hemisphere Energy's production, reserves and cash flow.

Hemisphere Energy's management and board of directors view the Jenner farm-in as an excellent project to complement its producing Trutch and Sylvan Lake properties in western Canada.
